Renmark, a great destination no matter what the season

Renmark was transformed by Australia's first irrigation scheme, is 258km north-east by road from Adelaide in the Riverland. The dry climate and year-round sun make Renmark and nearby Paringa a great destination no matter what the season.

There are galleries made for browsing, fruit stalls to stock up on the district's famous products, beckoning wineries, billabongs and secluded creeks to explore by canoe, and fish and yabbies to be caught. The town is also well off for riverfront picnic spots. And be sure to set aside an hour or two to check out the thousands of varieties of blooms on show at Ruston's spectacular rose garden.

The lookout tower, part way along the road to Murtho and Customs House presents a panoramic view over the cliffs at Whirlpool Corner and the river plains. Renmark is a convenient launching pad for journeys into the region's internationally significant conservation parks, including the Bookmark Biosphere.

Mandy Pearce

Mandy Pearce works for ac.care as a Placement Support Worker. Her role involves placing children with foster families, then supporting these families through the placements. Earlier this year, Mandy took her work home with her in the most literal sense, when she and her husband became foster carers for a 7yo boy. He is the youngest of the couple's six children.

Dave Badram

Dave Badram has been a physio since 1992 working in both public and private settings. During this time I have worked with a broad range of clients from the aged to young children, from the sedentary to the sporting populations and all groups in between. I have been involved in Industrial Physiotherapy in the Riverland doing work site assessments, manual handling training, functional capacity evaluations and pre-employment screenings.

I have now run my own private practice in Berri for the last 18 years and am lucky enough to have my wife working with me. Helen is a lymphoedema therapist and together we are able to offer a unique service to our clientele with both management of pain and swelling.

Four years ago we set up a community gymnasium from which we run seniors fitness classes and general Pilates classes

Jim Markeas - Mallee Estate Wines

Jim manages the Mallee Estate Winery where he produce all our wines onsite from estate grown vineyards in the Riverland region of South Australia. We specialise in branded wines for the Australian and export markets. The Riverland is Australia's largest wine region where it produces approximately 50% of South Australia's wine.

In 2015 He was awarded Riverland Winemaker of the Year. This prestigious award was presented to homat the 2015 Riverland Wine Show. We currently export to China and USA

James Johns - Eyes Open Ride

I am riding my motorbike 18,000kms around mainland Australia (including Tassie) to raise funds, awareness and support for the battle against child cancer, dropping in at hospitals and care centres in every capital city of our beautiful country. I leave from my hometown of Paringa in country South Australia and set off on a clockwise loop around Oz.

I am doing this ride in memory of my late father, Paul, who passed away in 2015 after his own battle with cancer. In Dad's view, and certainly mine, cancer in children can be a darker tragedy. Kids who may face an uphill battle to grow up and have families of their own, and parents who experience the pain of watching their child suffer.

PRIME SPIRITS FOR THE LIBERATED PALATE.

Our historic Twenty Third Street distillery, built in 1914, has been resurrected with twenty-first century technology. Century old copper stills are reignited with a spirit of anarchic invention. Our Master Distillery captures the spirit of riverside relaxation intersected with energetic invention. We're charting new flavour territories with old-school craftsmanship to bring you sensory pleasures savoury and sweet, bright and smooth, contradictory yet united. Twenty Third Street. Prime spirits for the liberated palate.

Mallee Estate Winery

Peter and Eleni Markeas migrated to Australia from Kardamili in Greece in search of a better life. This sunburnt country that they fell in love with gave them the opportunity to work towards their dream of owning their own vineyard and making wine.

After 30 years of experience developing their vineyards the family focus has expanded to producing quality wines. Now the Markeas family would like to share their dream with you.
